Wedding Packages

With more than 10 years wedding videography experience, we understand the time, effort and passion that go into the detailed planning of every wedding day. That's why we look upon every wedding as unique and endeavour to get to know the couple before the event arrives. Our very personal approach ensures that every effort is made to give you the most personalised memento of your wedding day to cherish for the rest of your lives.

We are often asked how much we charge for filming weddings, but as no two weddings are ever the same this is sometimes a difficult question to answer. However, we do understand that the first stage of planning any wedding is setting your budget and as a result we have outlined basic package options to help you factor in the cost of capturing the biggest day of your lives on film. We have also outlined the costs of an additional range of services, so that you can tailor our services to meet your requirements.

If these packages do not reflect your ideas, please feel free to contact us to discuss any requirements you might have.
